Turin, June 5, N. S.

ALL the Spanish Troops, as well as the French that hitherto seem designed for acting jointly with them in the Riviera, are confined in the County of Nice and Genoese State, where they must be often and greatly distressed for Want of Subsistence. We have a strong Body of Infantry on the Frontiers towards the Riviera di Ponente, under the Command of M. de Sinfan, who has Orders and full Authority to act, and by all possible Means to annoy the Enemy, as soon as the Troops under Don Philip advance to join, near Genoa, with M. de Gages: And as they already begin to move, and the Infant himself set out from Nice towards Onelle on the 2d Instant, we may very shortly expect to hear of some Engagement with the Enemy on that Side. The French and Spaniards have large Convoys of Artillery and military Stores coming to them by Sea. Commodore Ambrose is gone towards Villa Franca, and has stationed Part of his Ships to the Eastward, in Hopes of being able to intercept them. We had a Report here Yesterday, that 600 Tartans belonging to the Enemy were got into Genoa, laden with Cannon, Mortars, and Ammunition of all Kinds.

Genoa, June 5, N. S. The Duke of Modena and M. de Gages are still at Nervi. Yesterday Morning arrived the first Column of Cavalry, consisting of 1200, and encamp'd on the Glacis on the Eastern Part of the City; whereupon the Out-Gates were immediately ordered to be shut, and are to continue so until the whole Corps has passed into the Valley of Polcevera, where they are to be quarter'd till the Remainder of the Artillery arrives, and the Cloathing for the whole Army, which is expected soon from Barcelona. Letters from San Remo of the 1st Instant advise, that 13 Squadrons of Horse had passed through that Town in their Way to Albenga, and that on the 6th Instant Don Philip was to set out from Villa Franca with the Remainder of the Infantry and Cavalry; and the whole Corps under his Command was to join M. de Gages's Army in the Valley of Polcevera. On the 12th a General Council of War is to be held at Savona in the Presence of Don Philip.

Vienna, June 12, N. S. Yesterday an Adjutant arrived here with the following Particulars of the late Action between the Allied Army and the Prussians, upon the 4th of this Instant, near Strigau. The Combined Army encamp'd the 2d at Baumgarten, from whence they marched on the 3d, and arrived late, the Right at Hohenfribourg, the Left at Strigau, which Places are no less than a great German Mile's Distance from each other. Advice was soon after brought, that the Prussians were marching to Strigau. The Saxons, who arrived there so late as Eight of the Clock in the Evening, were attacked before Day-light upon their Left in a Post on a rising Ground, where they had placed eighteen Companies of Grenadiers and a Body of Uhlans, but these giving Way after a good Resistance, left the Advantage of the rising Ground to the Prussians, from whence the latter flank'd the whole Saxon Army, which giving way at last, before it was possible for Prince Charles to charge the Prussians in Form, as well on account of the Distance, as of a good deal of Confusion that had been occasioned on his Right, by his own Cavalry's Firing whilst his Center was pressing to the Left, the Prussians seized upon a Village so posted, as to flank equally both his Center and the Cavalry, and even to separate them in such a Manner, by advancing in Columns, that the Cavalry, though rallied a second Time, could never be brought to the Fire from the Village, so that the five Regiments in the Austrian Center were left to suffer the most, viz. two Battalions of Marshal, and the four entire Regiments of Colowrath, Grun, Leopold Daun, and Maximilian of Hesse. The Loss in the Infantry is computed at between 6 and 7000, among whom are reckoned about 2000 missing, and between 16 and 1700 wounded, of which last not above 200 are in a dangerous Way. The Loss in the Cavalry by dead, wounded, and missing, is computed at 1000. The Generals Thungen, Kintz, and Kuffstein are killed; Berlichingen has seven Wounds, and is a Prisoner, as is the younger St. Ignon; and as to other Officers, there are only two Colonels, two Captains, and eleven Lieutenants killed. The Austrians have also lost 18 Pieces of Cannon, and about 53 Colours. There are 15 Ensigns to each Austrian Regiment. Two hundred Prussian Deserters came in the Day after the Affair, and report, that five Generals were killed on their Side, and between 4 and 5000 Men killed and wounded.

(Price Two-Pence.)

From the Saxon Head Quarters at Pless, near Jaromitz, June 12, at Night.

The 9th we left our Camp at Slatin, and pushed forward to Schurtz near Konigshoff, and Prince Charles's Army went to Jaromitz.

The Advices we had from the Posts on the Frontiers confirmed those which had informed us the Night before, of the Prussians having entered into that Kingdom by the Way of Trautenau and Braunau.

The 10th we halted at Schurtz, where we were informed by Prussian Deferters, that the Corps commanded by General du Moulin, which consisted of 12,000 Men, was marched from Landshut into Bohemia, and had left the King's main Army near the said Town.

Lieutenant General Count Nadaſti sent Word, that the Prussians were on this Side Poliz near the Town of Starchstadt, which is six Miles from this Place, and according to Colonel Wilkzewski's Accounts, those who were in the Neighbourhood of Hirschberg, were retired from thence.

The 11th Prince Charles came in the Morning to our Head Quarters, to discourse with the Duke on what was proper to be done in the present Situation. The two Chiefs agreed at this Interview to alter the Position of the Allied Army, which was this Day executed.

The 12th Instant our Auxiliary Corps having taken the Place of the Right Wing of the Allied Army, which extended to Jaromitz, the Austrian Troops marched on farther to the Right; so that their Camp extends towards Neustadt, the River Metaur being in their Front. The two Chiefs are lodged in the same Place.

Dresden, June 16, N. S. The Prussians have demanded 400,000 Florins of the Circle of Koniggratz. The Troops in and near Magdebourg are not encamped.

Mentz, June 17, N. S. The Elector of Mentz's Troops have taken Possession of the Castle of Konigstein, which the French abandon'd on the 15th, but they continue to fortify themselves at Hoecht, and have thrown 1000 Men into the Elector's Palace at Aschaffenburg, where they are taking necessary Measures for defending themselves in Case of an Attack. The Prince of Conti's Head Quarters are at Bobenhausen, much upon the same Ground where the Duke de Noailles lay before the Battle of Dettingen. Velt Marshal Traun passed the Mayn some Days ago in the Neighbourhood of Weltheim and Miltelburg, and is now marching with his Army on the Back of the Speffart, and as Velt Marshal Bathiani has already taken the Command, we hope that the Junction of the two Armies will be made near Gellenhausen.

Berlin, June 19, N. S. By Letters from his Prussian Majesty, dated the 12th of this Month, from the Camp between Friedland and Braunau, there is an Account, that the Prussian advanc'd Guard, under the Command of General du Moulin, was that Day in March directly for Koniggratz, the King being to follow the next Day with the main Body of the Army, with an Intent to attack the Allies again, or to seize upon their Magazins in Case of their Retreating. The Hungarian Insurgents in the mean while continue making Incursions to the very Gates of Schweidnitz.

Hanover, June 22. This Morning at Nine a-Clock her Royal Highness the Princess of Hesse arrived in good Health at Herrenhausen.

Hague, June 25, N. S. On Wednesday last the States received, by an Officer dispatched from Tournay, the News that the Cittadel had capitulated on the 20th Instant. Letters from the Rhine from good Hands bring Advice, that on the 18th Instant Marshal Traun's and Marshal Bathiani's Armies were but two Marches from one another; and that by the Prince of Conti's Dispositions then making, it seemed as if he was meditating a Retreat as far as Worms. Lord Tyrawly arrived here from Hanover on Wednesday last, and sets out for England Tomorrow or next Day; as does M. Oforio for Hanover.

Dublin, June 11.

This Day being the Anniversary of his Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne, the Great Guns were fired in the Phoenix Park, and answered by Volleys from the Regiments in Garrison, which were drawn out on Oxman-Town Green. At Noon their Excellencies the Lords Justices met at the Castle, and received the Compliments of the Nobility and other Persons of Distinction; and afterwards made a Tour round St. Stephen's Green, attended by the Battle-Axe Guards and a Squadron of Dragoons; and the Night concluded with Bonfires, Illuminations, and all other Demonstrations of Joy.

Admiralty Office, June 18.

His Majesty's Ship the Fowey, Captain Taylor, Commander, on Wednesday last, the 12th Instant, about Noon, Cape Antifer on the Coast of Normandy, bearing S. S. W. six Leagues, saw a Sail giving him Chase, but perceiving her Mistake, hauled down her Colours, and made Sail for the French Shore, and anchored in the Bay of Feschamp, about five Leagues to the Eastward of Cape Antifer, which being clear of Rocks and Shoals, Captain Taylor ventured in, and the Privateer observing it, cut his Cable, run near to a Fort of six Guns, and came to an Anchor. At Half an Hour past Four, the Fowey anchored within half Point-blankshot of her. She was a Ship of 26 Guns, and discharged them at the Fowey, as did also the Fort; but upon a Boat coming on board, she cut her Cable and made for the Pier, and one of her Pilots having lost his Head, and the other his Thigh, was obliged to trust to their Sailing; and in about an Hour after the Fowey forced her on Shore on the Beach, about two Miles to the Eastward of Feschamp.
Captain Taylor sent his Boats on board her with Directions to burn her, as it was the Tide of Ebb, and no Place to lie long at; but finding One hundred and fifty Men on board, many small Rocks about her, which made so great a Sea that it was impossible to take the Men out, was obliged to leave her upon her Broadside
bulged, her Foremast gone, her Lee Gunnel broke, Guns spiked, Small-arms tossed overboard, and disabled her all in his Power; all the Men on board are supposed to be drowned, except the Captain, Officers, and Men brought into Spithead by the Fowey, which are in all not above forty. She was called the Griffin of St. Malo.
